

Judith Hummer Yupo Workshop:

Participant Supply List

Bring your own watercolor supplies -- palette, paints, water bucket, paper towels and brushes.

Paint Colors: I encourage you to use what you have and are comfortable using. Do not worry about matching mine. These are colors that I have on my palette

I do recommend that you have a nice dark for mixing like indigo or payne's gray.

Various blues – cobalt, ultramarine (green shade), cerulean and prussian (or winsor blue)

Various reds – permanent rose, cadmium scarlet, alizarin crimson

Various yellows - windsor yellow, indian yellow, naples yellow, yellow ochre (or raw sienna)

Permanent Sap Green is nice if you have it, viridian, permanent green light

I also use permanent magenta, quinacridone violet, ultramarine violet

Burnt sienna and van dyke brown

Sometimes I will use azo orange or cadmium orange

Brushes

1" flat brush (or a mop brush) - to cover a lot of surface quickly

½ " flat brush, #6 flat shader

various size round brushes - at least a no.8, and no. 4;

Small Stiff brush with a lot of bounce – usually a synthetic – to easily lift back to white

Other Supplies

Bring (2) backing boards (larger than 11x14) on which to secure your paper - we will have two pieces of YUPO - one for practicing the techniques, the other for your landscape.

Can be gatorbord, foamcore, matboard, cardboard – just something rigid

Blue painters tape (to secure YUPO to backing board) (if you don't have it, I have some)

Box of kleenex - get the rectangular shaped box, not square boutique style

We will also use this box to support paper when tilting (like an easel)

Cling wrap (saran wrap)

Wax paper -- if you don't have any that is ok. I will have a roll.

scissors

Spray bottle or mist style bottle. Those little ones from Harmon's are perfect

Watercolor pencils - used to draw a light sketch of your painting onto the yupo paper

Old acrylic bristle brush if you have one. The rattier the better -- makes good grass effect

Hake brush - used for blending

JUDY WILL SUPPLY:

Reference photos - again, I encourage you to bring your own too

Little foam rollers

4 blow dryers

YUPO paper size 11 x 14 (two sheets per person)

Rubber rug pad strips to use when tilting paper
